

IRATA ROPE ACCESS TRAINING COURSES

Dragon Safety Systems is the training arm of Remote Access Technology, offering rope access training courses (IRATA Level I, II, & III). Courses are run over four days followed by an independent IRATA Assessment on the final day.

Our training venues are located in:- London, Cardiff and North Wales.

Candidates should be aware IRATA courses are physically demanding and candidates should have an aptitude for heights, the ability to work safely at height and an appropriate level of fitness. A self-certified medical form is required for the training and must be completed prior to course start.
